GREAT FIGHT OPENS ON ANTI-INJUNCTION.

Struggle Will Be Carried to the Floor of the Convention.

Subcommittee on Resolutions Said to Favor Gompers's Demand, but Main Body May Show Small Majority Against It—Able and Determined Leaders on Both Sides and Sensation May Yet Develop.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, June 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With the opening of the Fourteenth Republican Convention today came the sharp crack of a signal gun, giving ample notice of the opening of one of the greatest fights in the history of the party. It is now a question of principles and policies. Men have been lost sight of. It begins to look as if the struggle over the money plank at the St. Louis convention in 1896 was a mere skirmish compared with the battle over anti-injunction which is now going on.

The convention, which adjourned at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon to await the committee reports, will reassemble at noon tomorrow. There is a good prospect the credentials committee will be able to report at that hour, in which case permanent organization will be at once effected with Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts in the chair.

The resolutions committee, in which the heavy fighting is in progress, may require much time before it can report the platform. Taft's nomination is still assured but the Vice-Presidency is in the air pending the decision of the contest over the platform.

Caucuses and committees were busy all night long, pressing the sensational struggle against the one plank which President Roosevelt seems determined to have inserted in the platform against the expressed wishes of a large minority of the delegates and probably in spite of the sober second thought of an actual majority of the whole convention.

ATTITUDE OF THE COMMITTEE.

Until midnight a subcommittee on resolutions wrestled with the great question. The giants of the party on both sides were engaged, and tonight it is still far from its conclusion.

The subcommittee stands nine to four for the anti-injunction plank. It is believed the full committee stands 28 to 24 against it. This means that the subcommittee will report in favor of the plank and the full committee against it, unless there is a change of opinion in the latter body, which is entirely possible, because of the powerful personal influence of the administration which is being exerted.

In any event, the fight will be carried to the floor of the convention, and what it was predicted would prove a tame gathering is likely to be one of the most sensational conclaves in the history of the Republican party.

Those who are fighting on both sides are able and determined and there really seems to be at stake a great question of party policy, which on this account may become the real issue of the campaign, no matter how it may be settled in the convention.

It has been known for a long while that this fight was certain to come up, but it was not supposed it would be precipitated in the convention itself and at its first session. Yet this is exactly what happened.

To the average holder of a seat in the great gathering at the Coliseum today everything looked smooth and almost monotonous. The band played the "Star Spangled Banner," and "Dixie," and "Annie Laurie," as usual. The crowds streamed about the streets and through the narrow entrances without much confusion.

There was a notable lack of enthusiasm, even when Taft's banner was carried up the center aisle, but the vast multitude was good-natured and ready to be treated to any kind of a show. They watched with curious interest the usual preliminaries of a national convention, the reading of the call, the speech of the temporary chairman, and the announcement of the regular committee and minor officers.

BURROWS LAYS DOWN GAUNTLET.

Yet it was in the speech of the presiding officer of the convention, Senator Burrows of Michigan, whose voice frequently was inaudible a few feet away from him, that the bombshell was exploded which astonished all of the old heads, although the crowd was entirely unaware of the sensational happening. The Senator from Michigan, who has been well known as a conservative and whose appointment to his place was bitterly opposed at the White House, went out of his way and interjected into his speech a paragraph not in the original draft hitting the anti-injunction plank a direct and resounding slap in the face.

"This great Department of Justice, this Federal judiciary," said Senator Burrows, "constitutes the conservative and restraining force which holds the government to its true course, and there should be no sympathy with that spirit which would divest the courts of their constitutional powers or impeach their integrity."

"The courts are the safeguards of the individual and of the republic. If constitutional government and civil liberty should ever be imperiled in this country and driven to bay, they will find their true refuge and defense within the impenetrable fortress of the supreme judiciary of the United States."

It was a proceeding as unusual as it was unexpected and those in the immediate vicinity of the Senator gasped at the audacity of the thing and at finding this sensational episode carefully hidden in a speech which in other respects was almost hopelessly monotonous.

DELEGATES APPLAUD SENTIMENTS.

But the delegates were quick to catch the significance of the thing, and the applause they gave, while mysterious to the galleries, could not be misinterpreted.

When Senator Burrows declared that the fortress of representative government was contained within the supreme judiciary of the United States, and, when he intimated that it would be dangerous

That Was When Chairman Burrows Protested Against Gompers's Raid on Courts—How Frank Hitchcock's Convention Popped Open.

BY HARRY C. CARR.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, June 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mr. Hitchcock took the national convention off the ice today.

I had always supposed that convening the delegates to name the next President of the United States would be a solemn, portentous and pretty nearly sacred ceremony.

To tell the truth, the first day was ridiculously unconventional. The delegates "kidded" all the speakers and joshed the celebrities. When they even got funny with the Lord's prayer, I decided that it wasn't going to be a very emotional affair.

When Bishop Muldoon eloquently supplicated the Almighty in behalf of the convention, the crowd took it pretty seriously. But when he began the solemn recitation of the Lord's Prayer, one of the best-known journalists in the press box abruptly sat down.

The original part was all right, but we can't stand for reprint," he said. The California delegation swept in with a big yellow banner to the music of a brass band and plainly intended to take the convention off its feet. But there were only a few half bows of applause. Another delegation, that brought in an enormous Taft banner, did not get away with it much better.

Even when the band played "The Star Spangled Banner," the folks didn't get half as excited as they would at an Orpheum matinee in Los Angeles. Well, after all, if we nominate Taft or stump for Roosevelt, we are sure of a tip-top President, so why should we sob into the dinner soup about it?

THE "REAL THING."

Part of the lack of excitement was due to the awful rumor that Senator Burrows's speech was 15,000 words in length and that he intended to read it. Perhaps it wasn't really so bad as that, but it was very long and nobody heard it.

Anyhow the delegates all realized that the cross-looking man with slick yellow hair talking in the aisle to a policeman was the real national convention. You can't get up a yelling lot of enthusiasm over the fact that Frank Hitchcock hasn't passed out the next orders yet.

The crowd began filing into the enormous hall an hour and a half before the convention hour. The Col-

Stirring Picture When Republicans of Country Meet in Chicago.

Fourteen Thousand People in Great Hall When Key-note Sounds.

Leaders Cheered and Party Stars Are Paraded Before Throng.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

CHICAGO, June 16.—Amid scenes of stirring enthusiasm, the Republican National Convention of 1908 began its deliberations at noon today in the presence of an assemblage, estimated at more than 14,000 people, with the sounds of patriotic airs alternating with the frenzied shouts for Roosevelt, Taft and the other popular heroes, the first topic of the coming struggle from the graceful orator of Michigan, Senator Julius Caesar Burrows, and the initial formalities which started this momentous gathering into motion.

The opening session lasted less than two hours, and was less notable for the business accomplished than for the opportunity it afforded of looking again this stirring picture of the people assembled from every corner of the country to select a candidate for President of the United States.

The actual work of the day was quickly accomplished, and tonight the various important committees, credentials, platform, organization, etc., are preparing for the more important business to come.

Early in the day all roads into Chicago turned toward the huge stone pile known as the Coliseum, with its back toward Lake Michigan and its Gothic towers fronting a rather shabby section of the city. Here centered the convention throngs. State delegations, singly and in groups, some with marching clubs and bands, and banners for their favorite; the Ohio delegation with a huge blue silk standard bearing the portrait of Secretary Taft.

At front and rear the great building was besieged by steady streams of humanity until at noon almost every seat in the structure was occupied and great crowds stood outside to catch the echoes from within.

IMPRESSIVE DIGNITY.

The scene when the vast assemblage was called to order was one of impressive dignity, of animation and of color. In the central arena sat the delegates, almost 1000 strong, and back of them their alternates, another thousand in number, with the standard of the States rising here and there above the turbulent sea of heads.

The points of vantage immediately in front were held by Ohio, New York, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Wisconsin, each having a candidate, while farther back were ranged the other States, the Territories, Hawaii, Porto Rico, the Philippine Islands and Alaska, appropriately forming the outer fringe of the official delegations. Around this central mass of delegates and alternates swept the long lines of spectators, in rising tiers and in solid masses of men and women, the latter in gay-hued summer gowns and with fluttering fans and waving handkerchiefs. Higher up another gallery topped the vast enclosure.

High up above the vast assemblage bent the huge semi-circular roof, its steel girders looped with bunting and ablaze with electric devices, while on every side the national colors were woven into sunbursts, shields and patriotic symbols.

In front of the delegates stretched the mammoth platform, 200 feet square and accommodating 100 distinguished guests, including Ambassadors and Ministers from foreign states, heads of the official of the convention and members of the National Committee.

LOCATION OF STATES.

The moments before the gavel gave the opportunity to inspect the personnel of delegates and leaders. Grouped in front of the New York delegation were Seth Low and Gov. Stewart L. Woodford, the supporters of Hughes, and further back Sen. Chauncey M. Depew, ex-Gov. Odell Sereno E. Payne, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, and ex-Lieut.-Gov. Timothy L. Woodruff. Flanking them were the Knox force Gov. Stuart of Pennsylvania at the front, with Senator Boies Penrose and Representative John Dalzell, the personal representatives of Mr. Knox.

In the van of the Ohio contingent Gov. Harris, beside J. Warren Keefe, and Wade Ellis, the latter the draftsman of the new platform; Representative Theodore E. Burton, who is to be Taft in nomination, and the three lieutenants of Taft, ex-Gov. Herriot, A. L. Vorse and Charles F. Taft.

Just back of the Ohio leaders were Senators Lodge and Crane, surrounded by the Massachusetts phalanx; to the right Senators Cullom and Hopkins with Gov. Deneen of Illinois; May Fred Buss of Chicago, and the Cam-

RECITES REPUBLICAN PARTY ACHIEVEMENTS.

Temporary Chairman Burrows Paints Glowing Picture of Nation's Phenomenal Progress and Predicts Overwhelming Victory at Polls.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

CHICAGO, June 16.—Senator Burrows of Michigan, temporary chairman of the National Republican Convention, in his address on assuming the position today, said:

"Mr. Chairman, and Gentlemen of the Convention:

"Another chapter in our national history under Republican administration is now to be concluded, and, conforming to the party usage long established, this convention of 800 delegates and their alternates, chosen by the Republican electors from every State and Territory, within the confines of the republic, meets in this high council to submit the record of its achievements to the critical review of the American people, and make fresh avowal of its faith in the principles and policies of the Republican party.

"The framers of the Federal Constitution wisely provided that all governmental power shall be lodged with and retained by the people, and that their chosen representatives selected to administer the affairs of government should be vested with only a limited tenure of office, and at regular and stated periods render an account of their stewardship to their rightful sovereign, to the end that the administration of public affairs through the instrumentality of individuals and parties, should at all times conform to and reflect the dominant judgment of the American people.

IMPORTANCE OF ELECTION.

"To this end, the constitutional term of the Executive office is limited to four years, the Senatorial to six, with a third of the membership subject to change every two years, while the service of members of the National House of Representatives, the immediate and direct sponsors of the people, is restricted to the brief period of two years. Thus in this free representative government, under our constitution, parties and policies rise at all times with the supreme electorate, confirming the declaration of Abraham Lincoln that this is in fact a government of the people, by the people, and for the people.

"In the approaching election, a President and Vice-President of the United States, a full membership of the House of Representatives, consisting of 385 members and delegates at large, and United States Senators from as many different States are to be chosen. The result, involving as it does the control of both the executive and legislative branches of the national government, with the opportunity for a change of policy, and the far-reaching consequences, involving the State and the nation.

"Four years ago the Republican party in national convention submitted the record of its achievements to the American people, and in the election of 1904, secured a record unexampled in the history of political parties since the foundation of the government, receiving the support of thirty-two States out of the forty-five, with but thirteen in opposition.

PARTY'S RECENT RECORD.

"In view of this record, it has become pertinent and opportune to inquire, What has the Republican party done in the last four years of governmental control—in many respects the most triumphant and brilliant in the history of the party and the country—to forestall public confidence or create distrust in its capacity for future administration? Although some untoward and unforeseen conditions have beset the republic during the last four years, yet there have been not one overcome with alacrity and courage, and the country has marched steadily onward in its majestic course of industrial triumph. The wise and beneficent legislation of the Republican party during the long years of its ascendancy and administration of national affairs laid the foundation for the public weal so securely that no disquieting condition, not even a temporary panic, which necessarily touches the maintenance of all industrial life, could arrest the country's restless advance.

"Since the last national Republican convention, four years ago, our population has increased from 75,000,000 to 87,500,000, more than 12,500,000 immigrants from every quarter of the globe have found welcome in our shores and protection under our flag.

"During the last four years, our stock and bond markets have increased in value from $1,500,000,000 to $4,300,000,000. The value of our farm products from $1,500,000,000 to $2,500,000,000. The output of wheat from 100,000,000 to 150,000,000 bushels. The production of gold from $1,000,000,000 to $2,000,000,000. The accumulation in savings banks of $1,500,000,000 to $2,500,000,000. The deposits in all banks in 1907, aggregating $1,500,000,000, reached the fabulous sum of $2,500,000,000 in 1907, an increase of $1,000,000,000 in four years.

"Two millions of spindles in our cotton mills were added, and the domestic cotton used in our factories in 1907 amounted to over 5,000,000 bales, as against 3,000,000 bales in 1903.

"The importations of raw silk to supply our mills increased from a little over 15,000,000 pounds in 1903 to nearly 30,000,000 pounds in 1907.

INCREASED BUSINESS.

"In spite of the disquieting conditions incident to the regulation of rates on interstate railroads, 20,000 miles of new track have been added in the past four years.

"The tonnage of vessels passing through the Suez Canal from 1903 to 1907, increased from 2,000,000 to 4,000,000 tons.

"The output of pig iron, the barometer of trade, was 25,721,000 tons, as against a little over 15,000,000 tons in 1903, and our exports of iron and steel increased from 1,500,000 tons to 1,851,531 tons in 1907.

"The cotton fabrics wrought in American mills from our domestic cotton increased in 1907, 3,754,000 bales, while in 1907 they required more than 600,000.

"Our exports of manufactured goods from 1903 to 1907, increased from $400,000,000 to $740,000,000.

"Our imports of raw material for use in domestic manufacture increased from $250,000,000 in 1903 to $477,000,000 in 1907, while our exports in the calendar year of 1907 were nearly $2,000,000,000, an increase of 50 per cent. over those of four years ago.

"The mills and factories temporarily closed by reason of financial disturbances are rapidly resuming operations, calling labor back to profitable employment.

"This record of material activity in field and forest, factory and farm, mines and mills, during the last four years might be indefinitely extended, but this is quite sufficient to show the development and robust condition of our industrial life.

"The nine great executive departments of the government, through which the head of the nation speaks, and acts, have advanced with steady and resolute steps within the sphere of their activities, presenting a record of achievements during the last four years of intelligent and progressive administration unexampled in the history of the government.

DEPARTMENT WORK.

"The Agricultural Department has continued its work in promoting the interest of the farmer by diversifying his products; supplying new and valuable seeds and plants; and adapting to our climate and soil, eradicating diseases which infest and destroy animal and vegetable life; developing the best sugar industry from 40,000 to 140,000 tons, valued at $45,000,000; enforcing the pure-food law, conserving the health of all our people; distributing during the year 1907 nearly 17,000,000 bulletins; provided for over 200 scientific messengers for mail for the benefit of agriculture; protected our forest reserves from the ravages of fire, converted the arid lands and waste places into fertile fields and blossoming gardens; extended our producing area for grain wheat into a dry region, where it yields nearly 10,000,000 bushels a year; are being grown in regions which have heretofore been unproductive, and in every way possible conserving the natural resources of the country for ourselves and the generations to come after us.

"The Department of Commerce and Labor, organized in 1903, has been active and potential in extending our commerce and protecting our labor. It has dispatched messengers to foreign countries, particularly to South America and the Orient, to learn the needs and tastes of the people with a view of increasing our trade. The exports, which in 1903 aggregated $400,000,000, will, it is estimated, in 1908 aggregate about $750,000,000, showing an increase practically to every country. Its Bureau of Statistics has established a network of postoffices, internal commerce of the country on the Great Lakes and at important interior centers. Its Bureau of Manufactures has brought both domestic and foreign producers into closer touch with dealers, aided in the extension of foreign markets for our manufactures.

"It has coordinated the beneficent work of arbitration to avert or terminate strikes and promote the interests of our laboring people. Congress has wisely adopted a law which supplemented the work of this department by enacting a law for the better protection of laborers and by supplementing the work of this department by enacting a law for the better protection of laborers and by supplementing the work of this department by enacting a law for the better protection of laborers.

WORK OF CONGRESS.

"The Congress just closed enacted the law passed by the Fifty-ninth Congress to conform to the opinion of the Supreme Court, making common carriers liable for accidents to their employees engaged in interstate commerce. It has enacted a law for the further protection of the life of railroad employees in their hazardous employment. It has provided compensation for laborers in the service of the government, and making a provision for their families in the event of their being killed in the course of their employment. It has enacted a model child-labor law for the District of Columbia. It has directed a study of the labor of employees engaged in railway train service and of railway telegraphers.

of land now desert and uninhabitable, to be fashioned into farms for our people; and this vast area will be brought into cultivation without entailing the loss of a single dollar to the national treasury, as the land reclaimed is as valuable as the land it replaces.

RECLAMATION.

"Under this act the government has constructed 181 miles of canals, 24 tunnels, and 511 miles of wagon roads into heretofore inaccessible regions, the expenditures of this work aggregating nearly $1,000,000 per month. As a result of the operations of the Reclamation Service eight new towns have been established, and the number of branch railroads have been constructed, and 14,000 people have already taken up their residence in the desert.

"The work of the Pension Bureau has been brought up to date. The labor has increased, but the expense of administration during the last four years has decreased nearly $700,000. The force has been reduced from 2000 to 1400, and during the last twelve months, more than 100,000 certificates have been issued, more than any previous twelve months since the bureau was established. REPUBLICAN PARTY CLEARLY

Accomplishments of the Party and Its Aims

Willingness Is Expressed to Go the Record of Promises Fulfilled Placed the United States in the V of the World.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

CHICAGO, June 16.—The platform as it now stands is as follows:

Once more the Republican party in national convention assembled, submits its case to the people. This great historic organization that destroyed slavery, preserved the Union, restored credit, expanded the national domain, established a sound financial system, developed the industries and resources of the country, and gave to the nation her last post of honor in the country of the world, now meets the new problems of the government with the same courage and faith with which it solved the old.

In this, the greatest era of American advancement, the Republican party reached its highest service under the leadership of Theodore Roosevelt. His administration is an epoch in American history. In no other period since national sovereignty was won under Washington, or preserved under Lincoln, has there been such mighty progress in the ideals of government, which make for justice, equality and fair dealing among men. The highest aspirations of the American people have been realized. Their most exalted ideal has come to represent, not political sovereignty with one, but the best and wisest purposes of all his countrymen.

American manhood and womanhood have been lifted to a nobler plane of duty and obligation. Conscience and courage in public station and highest standards of right and wrong in private life have become the guiding principles of political faith; capital and labor have been brought into closer relations of confidence and independence; the abuses of wealth, the tyrannies of power, and all the evils of privilege and favoritism have been put to scorn by the simple, manly virtues of justice and fair play.

PRIDE FOR THE FUTURE.

The great accomplishments of President Roosevelt have been first and foremost, a brave and impartial enforcement of the law, the prevention of illegal trusts and monopolies, the exposure and punishment of evil done in the public service, the more effective regulation of the rates and services of the great transportation lines, the complete overthrow of preference, rebates and discrimination; the arbitration of labor disputes, the amelioration of the condition of wage workers everywhere, the conservation of the natural resources of the country, the service of the inland waterways and always the earnest suggestion and demonstration of some safeguard, which has made more secure the guarantees of life, liberty and prosperity. These are the achievements of the Republican party.

More than all else, the great things that the Republican party has done, are the things that have yet to be done. We declare our unflinching adherence to the policies that have made our country a model of progress and advancement under a Republican administration.

AMERICA'S PROUD POSITION.

Under the guidance of Republican principles, the American people have become the richest nation in the world. Our wealth today exceeds that of England and all her colonies, and that of France and Germany combined.

When the Republican party was born the total wealth of the country was $10,000,000,000. It has leaped to $40,000,000,000. The population has increased from 75,000,000 to 87,500,000. The production of gold from $1,000,000,000 to $2,000,000,000. The accumulation in savings banks of $1,500,000,000 to $2,500,000,000. The deposits in all banks in 1907, aggregating $1,500,000,000, reached the fabulous sum of $2,500,000,000 in 1907, an increase of $1,000,000,000 in four years.

"Two millions of spindles in our cotton mills were added, and the domestic cotton used in our factories in 1907 amounted to over 5,000,000 bales, as against 3,000,000 bales in 1903.

"The importations of raw silk to supply our mills increased from a little over 15,000,000 pounds in 1903 to nearly 30,000,000 pounds in 1907.

"The value of our farm products from $1,500,000,000 to $2,500,000,000. The output of wheat from 100,000,000 to 150,000,000 bushels. The production of gold from $1,000,000,000 to $2,000,000,000. CHORUS GIRLS SPURN

GAY CALIFORNIANS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, June 16.—[Ex clusive Dispatch.] Two California

delegates who elected to lead the "gay life" were humbled men tonight in their headquarters at the Annex.

It appears from what their friends say, that the two politicians imbibed goblets of good cheer Monday night in making their rounds to refreshment places to display their badges. They decided to go to a theater, and hear some music and see some dancing.

Along about the second act the enthusiasm increased within the delegation from the Golden West evidenced to such an extent that the incassars of the enthusiasm threw their badges of admission to the Coliseum at the feet of the chorus beauties on the stage.

The discipline of the chorus prevented the girls from picking up the badges in public, but in the third act it was observed that some of the girls were clinging to the skirts of the Californians' men's badges.

"Glorious luck," thought the Californians. "Will we have lobsters a la

Newberg after the show?"

When the curtain went down between the audience and the finale, the Californians bent it at the stage door. The beauties were there, but they were climbing into the automobiles of a Chicago Johnny, and had no warm handshakes for the westerners.

with Mr. Roosevelt is limited. You see, he does not belong to that class that is running to the White House, thing that comes up in Congress. He plays in with the conservatives, you know, and that was the reason why he was selected to make the keynote speech for the convention in place of Beveridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth on duty in Chicago. He is attached to the greatest interest in the proceedings.

They heartily applauded every mention of Taft that occurred, and kept a distinct record of the names of the President was uttered.

Mr. Longworth's presence reminded a man of an incident which occurred last year at a dinner given by Mr.

Longworth to his friend to arrange a long-distance call with the President.

"What's his name?" he asked, and phone clerk to a bystander. He got the information he wanted and then he told central "It is Nickel Longworth and I think he wants the Secretary of War."

Again the operator turned: "Who is the Secretary of War?"

"William H. Taft."

"He says William H. Taft."

Nothing more was said, and presumably Mr. Longworth made his connection.

TAFT WIRE HITCHCOCK

WASHINGTON, June 16.—[Ex clusive Dispatch.] Secretary Taft has wired Frank H. Hitchcock, insisting in most vigorous fashion that the anti-injunction plank, as drawn, must be put in the platform and calling on his friends to stand by him.

He calls Mr. Hitchcock that he has been for such legislation as the plank proposes for years and says in substance that he believes it is important it will protect labor from abuses by the courts. He says further the President is for it and that it is important of the President's policies and his own.

Not only was it made known here that this telegram had gone to Hitchcock, but it was also known that the President would fight for the anti-injunction plank until the sun goes down." It was asserted they would refuse any compromise of this important matter.

REALTY BUYERS
IN AN UPROAR.Want Former Secretary to Explain Some Acts.Youtz Says He Took Money
That Was Due Him.Directors at Hot Meeting Seek Explanation.

Directors of the Realty Purchasing Company, at a red-hot meeting yesterday in its offices in the Pacific Electric building, accused their former secretary and director, Joshua E. Youtz, with irregularities in the keeping of the accounts and moneys of the concern. President C. D. Sargent was urged to take legal action in the matter and it was said that a complaint will be made against Youtz today. At his home in Pasadena last night, Youtz said he had nothing to fear that his dealings with the company had been above board.

The action taken at yesterday's meeting is the outgrowth of a long feud which began when Youtz was ousted from office several months ago. In letters written to the stockholders recently, Youtz asserted that Sargent had juggled with the books and had destroyed the minutes of several meetings.

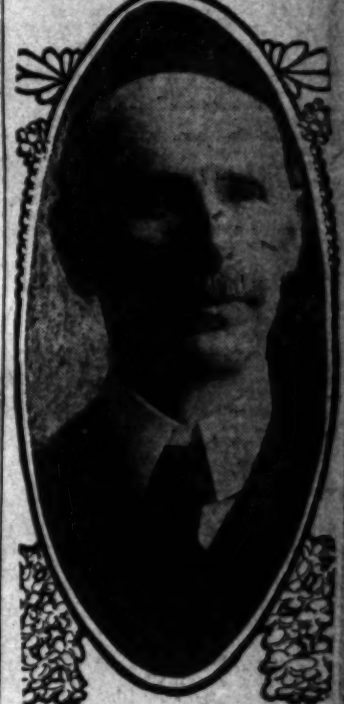

There is no record of any transactions of the company, it is said, from the early part of May to the beginning of July, 1907. Youtz was secretary during that period.

At a critical moment of the meeting yesterday a director asked that the minutes be examined. Then it was found that those for May, June and July had either been torn out, or never were written.

A committee to examine the books today was appointed as follows: W. L. Miller, W. D. Buel, and J. V. Paulding.

The directors were shown a check for $200, said to have been tendered for stock purchased from the company, bearing the names of T. D. Nestor and J. E. Youtz as endorsers. The check is drawn on the First National Bank of Pasadena and is signed Fred A. Ryan.

Around this check will center the fight which the company expects to wage against its former secretary. President Sargent charges that Youtz appropriated the check to his own use without accounting to his company. Youtz says in explanation that he cashed a draft on the State Bank and Trust Company of Goldfield for J. E. Monette and A. E. Ewing, who were then officers of the company. The Goldfield draft was for $150. Youtz said the money was due him.

A check for $150, drawn in favor of Youtz and signed by Chester D. Sargent, seemed to explain the Goldfield draft matter. "The money which Youtz advanced for that Goldfield draft was paid back to him the same day," said Sargent. "He cashed the draft on the morning of June 18, and in the afternoon I paid him the $150. He had no claim against the company."

"I am the victim of a blackmailing plot," was the way Youtz summed up the matter last night. "That check matter is easily explained. I advanced the money for the Goldfield draft $150, and the company owed me $50 additional. I simply took what was owing to me."

"I tendered my resignation last August. The concern was supposed to do an insuring business. It was really doing little of that."

There will be a meeting of the directors of the company this morning, and at that time a report on the condition of the minute book will be made.

MEMORY GOES BACK ON BELL.Prosecutor in Tangled Case Holds Tongue Well.Widaman and Sanger Lawyers Fail to Shake Him.Witness Says One of the Pair Fired Gun at Him.

Dr. Frank M. Bell, prosecuting witness against Attorney O. P. Widaman and a strangely-mixed case, spent the entire day yesterday perched on the witness stand in Police Court, facing a hot fire of questions from Attorney LeCompte Davis.

No man fighting for his life was ever compelled to undergo a more thorough or searching set of questions, and no man probably ever answered as many questions with three words, as did Bell.

"I don't know, I can't remember. I think not. I think so."

Out of the hundreds of questions fired at Bell yesterday, most were answered by one or the other of the brief sentences, until the preliminary examination became almost a farce, and Justice Chambers was compelled to call for order as the spectators tittered.

For a man supposed to be in a highly-excited and dangerous condition because of heart failure, Bell seemed remarkably cool. He assumed a lounging position early in the morning. Sitting well back in the chair, his legs crossed, one hand pressed against his cheek, the other thrown carelessly along the arm of the chair, he watched Attorney Davis for the defense without a quiver. No matter what the question, he refused to be shaken from his quiet position. When Davis fired the questions in rapidly Bell would murmur gently: "Not so fast—just wait a minute till I give that last answer."

MEMORY FAULTY.

"When were you born?" snapped out Davis.

"I can't remember," drawled Bell, and the spectators laughed.

There were many things Bell couldn't remember or didn't remember.

To test the elusive memory of the witness, Davis began at his toothbrushing time and step by step brought the history of the man before the court.

Dates were unknown to Bell. He couldn't remember the date of his leaving one city or the date of his entering another. He could not remember how long he had remained in any one city. He thought this and thought that, but after eight hours of constant questioning, Attorney Davis left the courtroom without having secured more than a dozen complete and satisfactory answers to his questions.

Bell left the witness stand smiling. He will be called again early this morning to again undergo the searching inquiry.

The sensational charges made by the wealthy physician against a well-known attorney of Los Angeles and his son, a member of the Stock Exchange, attracted a large crowd to the courtroom. Many of the spectators were women.

PROSECUTOR WEALTHY.

A dozen attorneys representing both sides appeared at the morning session. Bell was the first witness sent to the stand. The prosecuting witness is well-known throughout the Southwest. He is wealthy, owns one of the classic yachts on the coast, is a member of the South Coast Yacht Club and has appeared in numerous big business deals of Los Angeles and El Paso.

Bell alleges that his brother-in-law, Sanger, one of the defendants, together with Attorney Widaman, the other defendant, turned his wife against him and took his property away from him. He alleges that in place of a will he executed a deed to his properties in favor of his wife and that this deed was filed by Attorney Widaman before he intended that it should be filed.

There was one dominant necessity to make the transfer of the property complete, and this document, Bell alleges, Widaman and Sanger attempted to make him write and sign for them at the Hollenbeck Hotel.

Widaman is City Attorney of Wilmington, a well-known attorney of Los Angeles, and has big business interests in this city.

"Widaman and Sanger came to my room at the Hotel Hollenbeck on the afternoon of April 20," said Bell. "We had had some preliminary telephoning, and they said they wanted to see me on a matter of business. They entered the room and Sanger drew a revolver from his pocket and pointed it at my head. I was lying on the bed, almost too weak to move, and I put up my hands as he ordered me to."

REVOLVER DRAWN.

"Widaman locked the door and ordered me to stand up. I arose at his bidding and he searched me. He asked me if I had a revolver and I told him I had none. He then offered me to sit at a table and write as he told me."

"He stood at one side, with his revolver drawn, and Sanger stood directly behind me. Widaman abused me and told me I had lied to him. He took a piece of hotel paper and then checked his mind and drew a piece of his own letter-head from his pocket. I started to write as he told me. When I had written some, I broke the point of the pencil on my nose and arose to get another. I reached in the drawer of the dresser and grabbed my revolver. At the same moment I was fired upon by either Sanger or Widaman and my revolver went off in the drawer."

"Widaman grabbed me and put his hand over my mouth and ordered Sanger to close the window. I yelled for help and the hotel employees came to my rescue."

The partly-written note was introduced. It read as follows:

"Dear Widaman: I decided to give my El Paso property to my wife and executed a deed from my wife to you. You will find it in my box. Please have it recorded at once."

The note ended there.

Many exhibits consisting of revolutionary documents and burned lines, were introduced as evidence and identified by Bell.

Attorney Davis then took up the case, testing the memory of the witness and following the history of his life step by step.

The defense has subpoenaed a score or more witnesses to testify regarding Bell's character and these will be produced at the preliminary examination.

Then Watts sat down his newspaper.

Dr. Frank M. Bell,

who displayed wonderful control of his tongue as he sat in witness chair in Police Court, yesterday, testifying at preliminary hearing of Widaman and Sanger, accused of peculiar attack.

CHARGES THAT LESSEES HAVE NOT PUSHED WORK.

Legal Advice Sought as to What Can Be Done to Annul Contract. Standard Believed to Covet Rich Midway Lands—Seeking to Depreciate Them, It's Alleged.

The rich strikes of light high-gravity petroleum on the Mt. Diablo and Knob Hill lands at Midway lead to the belief that there is a vast amount of similar oil underlying many parts of the district that have never been developed to depth.

Some owners are of the opinion that their properties are being depreciated by lessees, who have failed to go deep, in order to induce them to sell at figures to the Standard. Some of the officers of one company not long ago consulted attorneys as to the possibility of annulling the lease of operators.

The shortage of water, the cost of moving material and the low rate which the Standard is paying on its contract purchases are reasons given by operators for failure to go deeper. The price, 30 cents, is in marked contrast with what the Standard is giving elsewhere. It is stated that it wants oil very much in plain, say land owners, and yet it is making no effort to encourage work in the Midway, except in furnishing water to E. E. Jones for his development of section 14, and probably also for the Big Four Company.

The Standard's contract with the Spillacy companies at 30 cents was made when that price was near the market rate. These concerns do not furnish nearly as much as the Standard and could easily use, yet, with its pipe line working at half capacity, it is not seeking any new contracts, apparently.

The water contract with the Big Four, which was to have been signed yesterday, calls for 2 cents a barrel. The Standard is to have the oil product at a mutually satisfactory rate.

The Mt. Diablo has some 300 feet of oil sand. Tests were being made yesterday by Superintendent Perrelli and Dr. A. F. Schaefer, one of the directors. The well was completed weeks ago.

The Knob Hill is doing nothing at present on its 22 gravity well. The water shortage is the reason advanced. The offer of the Kern County Land Company is likely to be accepted as a solution of the water problem. Three cents a barrel is the price offered.

Virgin's Biggest Strike. The Times has received a communication from Virgin City, Utah, in which it is stated that on June 4 the Virgin Oil Company has uncovered a seventy-five-barrel well at 154 feet. Gas pressure was great, and forced a temporary shut-down. This is the largest find yet made at Virgin.

Newhall's Shallow Wells. On the old Alpine and Commercial properties Newhall, Clappitt Brothers have drilled a shallow well, the production from each of which is small. The gravity is 18. Drilling is being continued. Such wells can be made to pay.

Fullerton is Active. The Orange Oil Company, which just finished a well at 200 feet depth near Brea Cañon, will start two more at once. The completed well is yielding satisfactorily.

The Union is running several strings around Brea Cañon on the Stearns property. No commercial oil has yet been produced by the well on the Brea Cañon ranch, just outside of Fullerton city limits, on which the Union has been at work for a year. The concern is buying most of the product of the district, at prices ranging from 60 to 70 cents.

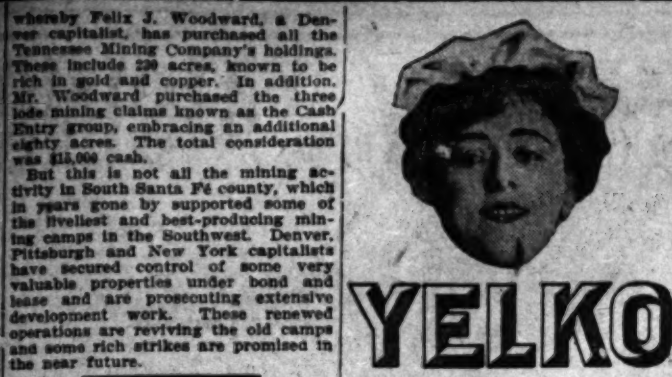

Ruby Encounters Boulders. The Ruby's first well at Sunset is about 100 feet, and the second not far behind. The drill is encountering shale and boulders, which are causing delay.

SANTA BARBARA WOMAN BUYS. Ingram & Briggs and Peter Nolan report the sale of two lots, each 160x112 feet, on the west side of St. Andrew's Place, 225 feet south of Dorchester street, to Lela B. Holmes for $600 cash. The grantor is Mary A. Moore of Le Mars, Iowa. The buyer, who is a Santa Barbara woman, will improve her purchase with a $15,000 house.

WOMEN'S CLUBS. Galpin Shakespearean Club. The annual meeting of the Galpin Shakespeare Club yesterday was a charming affair at the residence of Mrs. V. L. Atkinson of La-Manda Park, where the programme of the day was given in a natural theater in the woods, the stage being sheltered by a stately pine tree. A beautiful scene from "A Midsummer Night's Dream" was given by Mrs. Oliver C. Bryant, C. A. Zurchan, John Kahn, P. H. Brockel, Helen Stockel and S. H. Garrett. Mrs. W. J. Flaherty presented a distinctive number, a resume of a paper from Stratford-on-Avon, giving an account of the Shakespearean birthday celebration.

Installation of officers followed the regular members, the new officers being: Mrs. George Wright, president; Mrs. E. L. Smith, recording secretary; Mrs. C. D. Baker, corresponding secretary; Mrs. E. H. Burnett, treasurer, and the retiring president, Mrs. R. H. F. Varrel, director. The day was completed with a delightful luncheon, served in the shadow of a beautiful old live oak.

SAVED FROM MURDER.

Crazed by Boze Patient in Receiving Hospital Runs Amuck With Iron Bar.

The lives of dozens of men on the city chain gang were endangered yesterday morning when Arthur E. Dobson, suffering from delirium tremens, tore his iron cot to pieces in the Receiving Hospital, and, waving a heavy iron rod in his hand, charged the members of the gang.

All but William Kneel, under thirty days' sentence, escaped. He was felled by a blow on the head, and did not recover consciousness for more than an hour. It required the united efforts of a dozen men to pull the crazed patient from his feet and carry him back to bed.

Had there been any patients asleep on the adjoining cot, as is usually the case, Dobson would probably have slaughtered them without mercy. Dobson lives at No. 264 West First street. Suffering from alcoholism, he was taken to the Receiving Hospital early Monday evening.

He had been there only a short time when he broke loose and made a desperate assault upon Earl Whitney, the hospital nurse. He tore the bedding to pieces and almost wrecked the ward. Whitney clung to him, and called for help. Surgeons and jailers managed to overpower the crazed man and put him back to bed. He was shackled, but the shackles were later removed because the steel sore his ankles.

Yesterday morning he managed to tear himself loose from the ropes that bound him to the bed, and also tore the heavy leather muffs from his hands. He then wrecked the iron bed, just as some giant monkey might have done, and fell upon the members of the chain gang.

GIRLS' COLLEGIATE SCHOOLS' COMMENCEMENT.

Fascinating Beauty Exhibit, Last Evening, at Elbel Club House. Large and Fashionable Audience. Delightful—Graduates, in White, Carry Bouquets of Roses.

Flowers and girls made a striking beauty exhibit last night, at the commencement exercises of the Girls' Collegiate Schools. Both were there in admirable quantity and quality, and the exclusive audience that packed to it almost the Elbel Clubhouse was fairly carried off its feet by the combination.

The thirty-two graduates, about 100 students of the school and a large body of alumnae formed the living picture side of the exhibit. The flowers were massed around the patio and the girls.

The introduction of the school to the audience was an artistic and fascinating ceremony. Miss Alice Knight Parsons and Miss Jeanne W. Dennen, the principal and her assistant, on the right of the stage, and to a slow march the graduates passed down the main aisle and stood in front of the stage.

The graduates, dressed in white, each carried a magnificent bouquet of pink roses, ferns and delicate white flowers. As they reached the front of the hall, they opened ranks, raising their bouquets overhead and forming a triumphal arch, through which the graduates walked to their seats upon the stage. They all wore white gowns, had their hair dressed in uniform style, without ornamentation, and each carried a magnificent bouquet of pink tea roses, tied with broad pink satin ribbon.

The junior class next entered, bearing the flowers which were formed into a bank of fragrance and beauty along the front of the stage. The mass of them threatened to obscure the graduates, but the blossoms were so manipulated that when all was complete, the audience saw the bank topped with a solid line of white roses, as they lay in the laps of the graduates sitting behind.

At many stages, during this scenic performance, the audience applauded and gave other evidences of delight. It was hard to tell whose joy was the most perfect, that of the graduates, the teachers or the audience of patrons and friends.

An address of welcome was delivered by Miss Evangeline Duder, Miss Dorothy Fish, whose childhood was spent near San Diego Bay, gave an address on "The Old Model—a Story." Miss Evangeline Norwell sang very pleasingly, and Miss Ethel Wynne recited "The Old Model—a Story." Miss Parsons made an admirable address to the graduates, and then the diplomas were presented by Miss Dennen. The class song and the school song were rendered with much effect and in splendid voice. The invocation was by Rev. Dana W. Bartlett and the benediction by Rev. L. A. Gould, both of whom had daughters in the senior class.

Polioles are the graduates: Margaret Bartlett, Gertrude Beringer, Ruth Burdell, Anna Caswell, Georgia Clark, Lela Collins, Charlotte Jeppich, Crane, Irene Elliott, Dorothy Fish, June Gates, Marguerite Glover, Margaret Gould, Ruth Easter Henner, Florence John Herndon, Roberta Holby, Blanche Edna Kelle, Gladys L. Moore, Evangeline Norwell, Elizabeth Jane Pierce, Grace Perkins, Grace Richman, Lois Salisbury, Gertrude Schaffer, Phyllis Smith, Margaret Smith, Smith, Helen Louise Somers, Gene Station, Florence Wichter, Blanche Whelan, Mildred P. WHICH OR WHAT? UP IN THE AIR OVER A NAME.

CHRISTENING FOREST RESERVE CAUSES TROUBLE.

Supervisor Charlton Fies to Willard and May Brine Back on Inspiration, but San Gabriel and San Bernardino People Are at the Warpath Over Change.

The choice of a name for the new forest reserve, formed by uniting the San Gabriel and San Bernardino reserves, is causing the forest officials all kinds of trouble. There have been plenty of suggestions from interested parties, but no two of the suggestions agree.

It was the original intention to call the new reserve the San Gabriel, discarding the name San Bernardino entirely. Word of the plan reached the ears of the members of the civic organizations of Redlands and San Bernardino and they at once began filing protests. Their objections were loud and long, and the forest officials hurriedly assured them of their willingness to do the fair thing by every one.

While the question was being thought over by the authorities, somebody started the rumor that the San Bernardino people were to be placated and that the name San Gabriel would be thrown out in favor of the other. Instantly people of this district started trouble and the unhappy officials found themselves even worse abused than before.

Then they decided that the only solution would be to discard both of the names and to enter a new one. After much discussion and cogitation, they finally announced that they had hit upon a fine substitute, the name to be known as the Angeles Forest Reserve.

The outbreak from both the San Gabriel and San Bernardino sides, which followed the announcement of the choice of a name, made the former objections sound like gentle murmurs. It was obvious that the forest officials were approaching their second childhood, that they were wholly incompetent and that they should be confined in some sanatorium.

Why, it's the most ridiculous plan ever, said the San Gabriel and San Bernardino people in unison. It must be called the San Gabriel reserve. "It can only be known as the San Bernardino reserve," shrieked the other. What the outcome of the disturbance will be, no one can tell. At the office of the forestry service in the Huntington building, a Times man was politely informed yesterday that no action had been taken.

Supervisor Charlton was not on deck. He had fled to the mountain fastnesses, where there is nothing more dangerous than rattlesnakes and forest fires. Whether any action has been

CURES ECZEMA QUICKLY

New Drug, Poslam, Now Obtainable in Small Quantities.

Since its discovery one year ago, the new drug, poslam, has successfully cured thousands of chronic cases of eczema and other distressing skin afflictions. Heretofore, poslam has been dispensed solely for the benefit of eczema patients in large jars sufficient for a month's treatment. This was found to be an inconvenience to many thousands who use it for minor skin troubles, such as pimples, blackheads, herpes, acne, scaly scalp, complexion blemishes, itching feet, piles, etc., which require but a small quantity to cure. To overcome this, and in response to urgent appeals, the dispensers of poslam have been obliged to adopt, in addition to the regular two-dollar package, a special fifty-cent size, which in future will be found on sale at the Owl Drug Co., and other leading drug stores in Los Angeles, or may be ordered direct from the Emergency Laboratories, No. 22 West 25th street, New York City. In all cases, poslam is absolutely harmless, and its application, and proceeds to heal immediately; chronic cases being cured in two weeks. In less serious skin troubles, results are seen after an overnight application. Samples for experimental purposes may still be had, free of charge, by writing to the laboratories for them.

taken with regard to the choice of a name none of his assistants will say. The uniting of the San Gabriel and San Bernardino reserves under one management has caused all sorts of little disturbances. When the entire district came under the direction of Supervisor Charlton, that official determined to take steps to insure the administration of the reserves with the greatest facility and at the least expense.

At that time the nursery, where young pine trees are grown from the seeds of local San Gabriel Pines in the San Gabriel Mountains. The location left much to be desired as the lack of roads made it necessary to take the young trees and the supplies in by pack animal.

Supervisor Charlton began looking over the land, and concluded that Lytle Creek in the San Bernardino Mountains, offered many advantages unknown to Henninger Flats. There being an abundance of water there, good roads and several other good points in its favor, he announced that it should henceforth be the nursery and that Henninger Flats would be deserted.

The San Gabriel people at once objected. Some one started the rumor that the removal of the nursery to the new site would mean that no more planting would be done in the San Gabriel reserve and all sorts of ridiculous stories were set on foot. Civic organizations even talked of taking the matter up with Congressional representatives in Washington. The matter was amply settled, however, by the fact that the nursery at Henninger Flats was beginning to foster themselves that they had gotten off all dangerous ground when the question of a name came up.

DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR.

Banker Carlson Asserts Every Creditor Will Be Paid in Full and on Time.

Creditors of William H. Carlson, president of the Consolidated Bank, are waiting to see if he will fulfill the promises he has made to them, since his return to Los Angeles. Carlson met the Bank Commissioners, yesterday, and assured them that he had a plan to propose in a few days that will settle all difficulties. He asserted that it would be easy to pay the bank depositors, as the securities are valued at $150,000 and the deposits do not exceed $45,000.

Several hundred contract holders will meet at Burbank Hall tonight to discuss the situation and Carlson has been invited to be present to explain his scheme for securing releases for several hundred deeds calling for clear title to lots in the Redondo tract.

While his creditors assert that it will be necessary for the banker to raise at least $75,000, he is not worrying about any temporary shortage. "I shall settle in full with all my creditors," he said. "The assets are far in excess of liabilities and if my friends are a little patient, they will receive dollar for dollar."

He will contest the petition to be filed in the Superior Court, asking that a receiver be appointed for the Los Angeles Securities Company. He maintains that the company is solvent and that the contract holders can be given clear title as fast as they pay up on the lots.

Factories and Steel Mills Are Returning to Conditions Before the Panic—The United States Steel Corporation Guaranteeing its Patrons Against Lower Prices.

From many parts of the country comes the information that business conditions are rapidly improving, and that things are gradually returning to the conditions existing previous to the panic of last fall. In New England the cotton mills which have been running on reduced time and with decreased help have started up on full time. The railroads are reporting an increasing transportation business whereby the continued story of monthly losses is looking toward a reversal, and the iron and steel manufacturers of the country report increased orders. The United States Steel Corporation, with its immense capacity for production, is helping along this movement in an unusual way. Its officials have so much faith in the future that they are taking orders for any quantity of iron and steel at schedule prices with a guarantee that if prices drop any lower their customers shall have the advantage of such lower prices. Hardly more than this could be done by any manufacturers. The knowledge that great quantities of iron and steel must be required as soon as builders can see their way to go, has prompted this action which has the double effect of promoting business confidence and saving the company from being swamped with orders.
A little later on. New York advises that a vast amount of construction work which will consume steel heavily has been held back in anticipation of lower prices in spite of all the official reaffirmations that have been made by the United States Steel Corporation and the other steel concerns working in harmony with it. The steel industry resembles the cotton industry at the present time. In fact the stocks in the hands of consumers have become depleted, and the mills

the second largest coal and coke-says the worst effects of the financial

At a Prize for Spiritualists.
Some days ago a French savant, Gustave de Bon, who is convinced that most of the phenomena of spiritualism and of the so-called occult sciences are ocular illusions, offered the small sum of $100 as a prize to anyone who would, in his presence and that of a certain number of unprejudiced and scientific men, demonstrate a case of real levitation, that is, lifting by an occult power a cup or vase from one table to another, the object to be photographed in the actual transfer, showing without a doubt that there was no ocular illusion. He has not yet published, offered to add $200 to the prize. No medium has as yet proposed to submit to the test.

The Smallest Dog.
A dog so small that it is unable to weigh a dram and a half, was registered at the city clerk's office today.
Arrangements for a special license tag suitable to its size will be made. The dog is the property of J. L. Friedman, of the firm of Hale, Friedman & Co.
After Mr. Friedman had paid the license fee a little black tag was handed to him.

"Why don't you give me a ball and chain?" he asked, "I want dog tag, my dog's back. The dog is only six inches long. It's a Chihuahua dog."
"A Yahoo dog?" demanded the clerk, incredulously. "I thought they all disappeared at the last election." The difficulty was finally referred to City Clerk John R. McCabe. (Chicago

THE KING OF ALL
BOTTLED BEERS

He it was who caused to be deeply imbedded in our highest law those vital and fundamental guarantees of life, property and Personal Liberty.

In private life he was extremely social—yet truly temperate—drinking good malt beer and wine in strict moderation. Once, when sick in bed, he caused his couch to be wheeled near the dining-room door, that he might call to his acting representative at the festive board: "Doctor, are you passing the bottle? Do your duty, doctor, or I must cashier you!"

Justly named "The Father of the Constitution," he died at eighty-five.
When shall his name be forgotten?

SLASHING TWO-BAGGER BY OAKES WINS GAME.

Thirteen Innings of "In-and-Out" Play in Which President J. Cal. Ewing Sees His Seals Beaten. Longest Contest of Season.

LOS ANGELES, June 16.—San Francisco, thirteen innings.

After Henry Healy became black in the face watching Oakes come to bat and go through his head-liner stunt of trying to knock the fence down with every ball pitched at him, he gave up and tossed one at Oakes that bumped up against the Chutes gate in center field for the two runs the Champions needed to win with, and thus the longest game of the season came to an end, with President Cal Ewing of the league watching his team go down to defeat.

Incidentally, the 2000 fans in the grounds saw bunches of hard seats, the play, wavy errors, wild throws, a one-homer fight in the bleachers, and almost three hours of all kinds of ball that kept them guessing until long after 5 o'clock. Either team should have won long before the end came, but every time the finish was due some fellow would throw the ball away or another would slap it out of reach.

Before the wind-up, Shortstop Zelder of the Seals quit the game on account of having his foot in the third base hole and the men around until his team looked like a crazy quilt.

Nagle dropped out in the eighth, and Ewing came in, and counting down the mix-ups there was something stirring every minute.

Of course, it's all over now, but it would not be the end of the war for Oakes. He never had a chance in the field, but when it came to banging the ball, he was a fair playmate, whatever that is. He helped the first innings. Things looked bad in the first of the thirteen, for Williams singled, advanced on Melchior's sacrifice, and went to third on Willis's out. Then Curtis hit an easy grounder to Smith, and the latter threw it low to first. Williams scoring, and Curtis going to third, and the latter easily scored when McCardie belted the ball safely to center.

With two runs against them, the locals came in for the thirteenth. Ewing started things with a single, and Hogan followed with a double to left, which put Ewing on third. Hogan drove a hot one to Curtis at third, and it bounced up from his hands. While he was finding it Ewing came through with a double to center that scored the two winning runs to the music of a great cheer from the tired fans.

MARSHALL PITCHES WELL.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 16.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Walter McCredie's latest effort in the pitching line, Clarence Marshall, who hails from Los Angeles, made a good beginning but a bad ending across the bay this afternoon.

For seven innings the youngster had his curve breaking nicely, but the Commuters bided their time. When they landed on him in the eighth, it was to tie a game that McCredie had made in the seventh.

Counted as good as won, and in the eleventh they put across the necessary run, and it was Oakland's victory, 3 to 2.

Marshall has all the confidence of an old ringster in baseball, and good control, but he was perceptibly weakening toward the last of the seventh, and had McCredie traded horses in the middle of the stream and set Jess Garrett to work, it would have been much better for the standing of the northers.

For five innings, the Beavers were hitless and runless, and after the sixth had subsided, when they made their two tallies, Wright was back to form once more and in the remaining five innings of the game gave but two singles.

When Ryan walloped the ball to left in the sixth for two bases, when Harry Smith hit a home run, and when after another two-base hit and when McCredie finally kept a double just in the third base line, it looked very much as if the Fortifiers were tabbed.

That meant two runs, and with the way Marshall has been pitching was more than enough.

The big home run came in the eighth. Altman lined the ball to deep left field and Lewis followed with another in the same direction. The pair stole a couple of bases as Wright fanned, but were still anchored on the bases when Van Halten missed a fire in his effort to hunt successfully.

It was up to Healy, and he responded by slugging the ball to deep center so that both Altman and Lewis scored on the bludge.

There was where the run getting stopped until the eleventh. The Beavers had the bases full in their half of the eleventh with two down, but couldn't do anything.

The deciding tally came to Jimmy Smith, who opened the last of the eleventh with a walk. With Hogan out, Altman put the ball on the ground, and an effort to land Smith at third failed, although it was a half-line decision. Lewis made a scratch hit that just did help Smith home and the first extra inning game of the series was ended. Score:

Sets Pole Vault Record as High That It May Never Be Beaten by Other Athletes.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.) NEW YORK, June 16.—While hundreds of athletes are bemoaning their loss at not having "made" the Olympic team, which will represent America at the London stadium next month for the world's championship, one of the first to be picked by the American committee has said he will not accept the honor and will not compete. He is

W. P. Dray of Yale University, a champion with whom the athletes of the whole world are familiar. In fact, his feats in the pole vault have for more than a year been viewed with wonder. For two years he has held the world's record and the intercollegiate championship.

At the intercollegiate meet in 1931 he hurled himself into the air at the then unprecedented distance of 121 1/4 feet, and established a mark that remained untouched until he himself, nearly a year later, added another inch to it.

At the Olympic try-outs he was defeated by Gilbert, one of his classmates, and stripped of the record and title.

Spurred on by disappointment, Dray trained and practiced as he had never before, with the result that on Saturday, at a meet at Danbury, Ct., he cleared the bar at 121 1/4 feet. So much higher is this than any vault ever recorded, that Dray announced immediately after his feat that he was content to rest on his laurels and allow Gilbert, Nelson, Cooke and the other prominent vaulters to beat the foreigners when America meets the world next month.

While Dray is probably sincere in his desire to refrain from competing, those who know him best say that when the time comes for the American pole vaulters to line up in the London stadium, Dray will be one of the first on the field. His patriotism, they say, will compel him to strive for the success of his country.

YOUR HOME will be healthier when you keep bottled Schlitz. The barley is food—the hops are a tonic. And the drinking of liquids flushes the system of waste.

Every doctor knows that most people drink too little. On this account, their systems become clogged with waste.

There lies the main good of watering places. They induce the drinking of water.

That is one reason why the drinking of beer is good for you. It leads you to drink more liquid than you would drink without it. And that liquid is both a food and a tonic.

The sturdiest peoples of the earth drink the most of it. But be sure that the beer is aged, so it will not cause biliousness. And be sure it is pure.

Schlitz beer is all healthfulness.

Mother's Milk

Carries the Laxative With It

No need to give Cascarets direct to the baby. If the mother takes them, baby gets the benefit.

This vegetable laxative conveys its full effect to the mother's milk.

So one candy tablet, taken when needed, keeps both mother and baby well.

No other laxative is gentle enough for a baby. No other acts so naturally. Use Cascarets alone.

Any person living largely on milk must have the help of a laxative.

Milk fails to supply the laxative effects that other foods supply.

So nursing mothers all need Cascarets

—to make the baby's food gently laxative.

Cascarets have the same effect as laxative foods would have. They are as harmless as food.

That is not true of any other laxative that the world has yet produced.

Cascarets are candy tablets. They are sold by all druggists, but never in bulk. So you get the genuine, with CCC on every tablet. The box is marked like this:

Cascarets

The vest-pocket box is 10 cents. The month-treatment box 50 cents. 12 boxes 5.00, money order enclosed.

"LUCKY LEO" COMES INTO THE CONTEST.

Talisman for All the Young Contestants Is Earnest Capacity for Work—Interest in Campaign Grows Among All Friends of Youth.

A LUCKY boy came in yesterday to enter The Times Scholarship contest. His name is Leo Donko, and he will celebrate his fourteenth birthday anniversary on the day that the contest starts. June 27 will be a notable day for Leo, and for the other readers who will hear the "word go," and will speed forth to work and to win. If one believed in omens good or ill, the fact of having a birthday boy to help start this contest should bring good luck to each and every one. The Times contestants, however, have the best talisman of success in the world, the open sesame for all the golden treasures of the earth—a capacity for work. Some great people have declared that genius, that gift of the gods, is nothing more than this same capacity for work.

Scholarship Manager.
Fourth Floor, Times Building, Los Angeles, Cal.

"Lucky Leo."

or Leo Donko, who will celebrate his fourteenth birthday anniversary with the opening of the scholarship contest.

has been lying in a hospital for several weeks. Some one whispered to the scholarship manager yesterday that Leo has been almost as faithful in his attention to the injured boy as Fred's own mother.

"Please, I should like to enter the scholarship contest," said a polite little boy yesterday who reported at headquarters. He was quite small and had a musical instrument in a case under his arm. Another musical boy, but alas, he is six months under age. Just "half-past eleven," and must wait another year to enter. His name is Lawrence Lyster, and he is very young, cornetist. Lawrence was disappointed because he could not begin the scholarship contest this year, but he soon decided to help his friend, Clarence Wesner, the boy pianist, who entered the day before. Lawrence is in for the experience this time, and is already planning how to use that experience for his own benefit another year.

David Boardman was nominated yesterday by Mrs. J. J. Falls, who has written a fine letter in his behalf. "In presenting the name of David Boardman," she wrote, "I want to mention the merit of the case. For two years David, aged 14, has been driving a laundry wagon before and after school to assist his mother in providing for herself and four children of whom he is the oldest. A scholarship would enable him to boy, but alas, he is six months under age. Just "half-past eleven," and must wait another year to enter. His name is Lawrence Lyster, and he is very young, cornetist. Lawrence was disappointed because he could not begin the scholarship contest this year, but he soon decided to help his friend, Clarence Wesner, the boy pianist, who entered the day before. Lawrence is in for the experience this time, and is already planning how to use that experience for his own benefit another year.

Such a lad as this lady has described have become the Garfields and Lincolns of this country, and The Times is proud to welcome such a young bread winner as David. Certainly a boy who must support his mother and assist his family, needs the help of an education, for it was long ago said that "knowledge is power," and it is certain that education is a powerful weapon in the battle of life.

A Corvina candidate has arrived. Miss J. C. Benjamin, sister of a last year's winner, has written from Corvina to say that she wishes to enter and is ready to wait right in, to earn a musical scholarship. Her brother worked last year and gave the musical course that he won to his sister. Miss Benjamin is very anxious to keep on with her studies, and is ready for another try this year.

CARLSON HITS AT ACCUSERS.

Bank President Declares He Is Bound to Win.

Meeting Opens in Anger, Ends in Felicitations.

Restraining Order Against Consolidated Bank.

Carlson, the man, dominated the meeting of creditors in Bankers Hall, last night. Contrast-holders of Redondo lots, depositors of the closed Consolidated Bank, mercantile creditors—all gave way to the tremendous force and personality of William H. Carlson. The hall was packed to bursting. The overflow filled the corridors until a policeman cleared them.

"I tell you, I shall win, although every banker and real estate man in the city is against me," he shouted. "I am a man always on the square. I am to do right and respect my creditors. I am your friend. Within ten days I shall secure a release for every lot to which there is a warranty deed. Just give me a little time to read my letters and consult my lawyers. Then meet me at No. 124 South Broadway. Depositors will be paid dollar for dollar; not holders will get clear title or will refund their purchase price and throw in $100."

"Don't mind the knucklers. Don't worry. Everything is coming out all right. Stick to me. I am your best friend. I always play fair with the workingman. I paid honest money and will fall when other banks were handling out bogus money. My bank is sounder today than many a bigger institution."

Carlson recalled the automobile excursions to the Redondo tracks and asked the audience if he hadn't tried to treat them right. He was applauded. Although a few in the rear hissed, he told of the amount of money invested in the various tracks, and intimating that the abstract companies were trying to bleed the contract holders by charging fabulous prices for certificates.

In conclusion, Carlson invited individuals to ask him questions. A number inquired in regard to the release. Answering a lot of questions, the promoter started to leave the hall. He was stopped by many persons who clasped him by the hand and thanked him for what he says he is going to do for them.

The Consolidated Bank is in the hands of the Bank Commissioners and receiver may be appointed. Carlson will strenuously fight the move to have a receivership for the Los Angeles Bankers' Company, the president of which is employed in a local tailoring establishment.

It is asserted that Carlson must raise at least $200,000 in order to secure releases to the hundreds of lots for which warranty deeds were issued. The real owners of the land have so far declined to come to terms with him, but he may be able to effect a compromise.

"CITY GAS" SELLS OUT.

Reported That New Company Has Been Bought by Old Concern or Others.

Who will be the owner of the new City Gas Company?

This is a question which is a puzzle to some of those who are on the inside of the negotiations which are asserted to be under way for the disposal of the plant and good will of this industrial corporation which was to free the city of Los Angeles from the alleged domination of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company. The indications are that the latter company will control the former.

Late last evening it was denied by some of the men said to be interested in the sale that they knew anything about the matter.

BEGIN BORING OF BIG HOLE.

Steam Shovel Starts in on Long Tunnel.

Electricity Plays Important Part in Work.

Los Angeles-Pacific to Rush Its Operations.

The Los Angeles-Pacific yesterday started a large force of men and the electric power shovel to work clearing away the big embankment at what will be the Sunset-boulevard end of the Hill-street tunnel, preliminary to the actual commencement of excavation work. The shovel was brought from the Sherman barns yesterday afternoon and placed on the side track that has been laid during the last ten days, and it is now ready for work. Today all will be activity.

The removal of this embankment will join two clearings, one at the mouth of the tunnel and one a little to the west. The space will be utilized for toolhouses, power plants, offices, etc., and for trackway. The tunnel will then be pushed to the limit and should be finished in six or seven months.

No actual excavating for the tunnel itself has been done of late. When work was started before and then shut down two drifts were run for about 100 feet into the face of the hill. These will be used. So far all has been preparation, viz., clearing the ground, laying tracks and assembling material.

ELIMINATES GRADE. The tunnel will be thirty feet wide and about twenty-eight in height, at the center of the arch. It will accommodate two standard gauge tracks with passageway for employees required to pass back and forth. Where the tunnel is starting Sunset boulevard is much higher than at the mouth of the Broadway tunnel, practically at a level with the southern entrance so that cars will travel up and out of the street without any grade at this point. The steep hill down to Buena Vista street will be eliminated.

Excavating will all be in soft ground so that no power drills will be employed. The work will be done by means of what is technically called "jumbo." This is an immense movable structure, the width and height of the tunnel, just enough similar to permit it to enter. It will be built on a twenty-eight foot wide directly in front of the face of the tunnel. It will have three levels of floors. The first will be at the ground, equipped with two two-foot tramways which will extend on into the two ground shifts already run in for 100 feet.

The cars will be run from the jumbo into the drifts as bring out the excavated earth. From the second and third more drifts, identical in character and directly above the lower two, will be run. From the third there will be a single drift right in the middle. This last is to form the arch.

METHOD OF EXCAVATION. The tracks will be extended from these levels into the drift, and cars will convey the material for masonry and timbering. These will be raised by an electric hoist at the rear of the jumbo. From this drift, masonry will be at removing the "core," which is the name given the mass of earth left between the drifts. The muck will be dropped to cars on the lowest level opening places in the floor of the upper drifts. From the third there will be chute sloping to the level of the jumbo. Thus will be avoided all unnecessary labor.

When the core has been extracted and the whole opened for a way in the twenty-eight-foot track will be built farther, and the jumbo moved into the tunnel, advancing with the progress of the excavation. The jumbo will be built right on the ground, and will be started within another two weeks or as soon as the clearing is complete.

A series of ventilators and electric fans will be provided. A number are on hand. Electricity will be the power for everything. The regular trolley wire will convey it from the company's power house, but the wire will be run in a dozen or more dynamos on the premises. These will operate the shovel and the hoist, move the jumbo and work of the ventilators and the fans. A sawmill will be constructed to prepare timbers on the ground.

The opening as it is during the excavation will be reached in the Victor at the First and Temple-street end. It would be necessary to take it down the business thoroughfares between 1 and 2 o'clock a. m. only.

The place where the tunnel will penetrate the hillside is about half a block west of where Hill street would cross Sunset boulevard were it opened and cut down to a grade. It is just west of where the winding road that serves as a descent from Hill street reaches the boulevard. It comes out at Temple street, just west of Hill.

The tunnel will pass under California and Court streets and the High School. It is several times over the greatest work of its kind ever started in Los Angeles or any other city on the Pacific Coast.

AERO CLUB LOCATES. Chutes Park Selected as Headquarters for Meetings, Experiments, and Exhibitions.

The Aero Club of California, has reached terms with Manager James B. Leigh at Chutes Park, and will locate headquarters there. It is understood in the agreement that a small building for the exhibition of models will be erected, and, in addition, the club will have the use of a large building for the construction of flying machines and airships, and the use of a portion of the grounds for exhibitions.

Immediate arrangements will be made by the club for fitting up a meeting room, where general discussions will take place, and where literature and paraphernalia will be kept. The meeting next Tuesday evening will be held in the new quarters.

EX-JUDGE CHAPMAN ANSWERS LAST CALL.

FORMER JUDGE JOHN S. CHAPMAN died at 5:30 o'clock last evening at his home at No. 208 North Soto street, Boyle Heights. He was in his sixty-sixth year. Some time ago he had an attack of lumbago and rheumatism and grew rapidly worse. A week ago it was realized that his illness was serious. The end came from heart failure. Dr. Robert P. McElroy, who was in constant attendance until the end, the funeral will be held at the family residence on Friday at 2 o'clock. The arrangements are in charge of the Bar Association of Los Angeles.

Surviving this eminent attorney are the widow and six children—Miss Mary Chapman, now at the family home; Mrs. A. B. McCutchen, Mrs. E. A. McMillan, now of Vallejo; Ward Chapman of this city; Max Chapman, who is on his way home from the University of Virginia at Charlottesville, Va.; and F. S. Chapman, located at El Paso, Mex., who is on his way home.

Mr. Chapman was born in Batesville, Ark., in 1842, and at the age of 18 years crossed the plains to California, locating first at Susanville, Lassen county. That he made good progress in his new home, is indicated by the fact that when he began reading law in 1870, ten years after he crossed the plains he was serving as deputy sheriff of his adopted county. He was a very large man, standing over six feet tall, and in his later years attained a weight of perhaps 250 pounds. It is likely that in his young manhood this proved a good recommendation for his election as a deputy sheriff.

Following his admission to the bar and a brief practice, he was elected to the State Legislature from Lassen county and served during the term of 1875-76. He was then chosen Superior Judge, serving one term, after which he removed to Los Angeles, in 1879.

At different periods after becoming a resident of this city, Mr. Chapman was associated in the practice of law with J. D. Bicknell, J. A. Graves and Stephen M. White, and in 1883 formed a partnership with J. W. Hendrick, which continued until 1895, when his partner retired.

Mr. Chapman soon ranked among the best lawyers in Southern California, and retained his standing as long as he lived. He was distinctly a civil attorney, and "early" became identified with water litigation. He was the representative of the old Los Angeles Water Company throughout most of its memorable contests with the city, but eventually espoused the cause of the city in its final contest with the same corporation.

He was a close student, and had a marvelous capacity for work. He was noted for the infinite care with which he prepared his cases for presentation to the court. He was an easy and fluent talker, but made no pretense of oratory; a remarkable memory enabled him to recall important yet trifling details long after other men had forgotten all about them.

He was a man of the most irreproachable character, and found the greatest delight in his home, where the happiness of his family had the first place in his thoughts.

He was noted among all who knew him for his intricate knowledge of the Holy Bible, which added strength to his addresses as well as to his character, and the gentleness of his great nature fostered special delight in music.

His son, Ward Chapman, has been associated with him in the practice of law, and one of his daughters is Mrs. A. B. McCutchen.

PROSPERITY SLOGAN IS REPUBLICANISM.

REALIZING that the Presidential campaign this year is of the utmost importance to the commercial and industrial interests of this country, and that a continuance of the Republican administration means the restoration of public confidence and commercial and industrial activities, a large number of prominent business men met yesterday at Levy's Café and organized a Business Men's Republican League.

W. I. Hollingsworth was elected temporary chairman, and a committee of five were appointed to report on permanent officers and organization.

The utmost enthusiasm prevailed, and a large number of the business men, manufacturers and bankers pledged their support to the new organization.

It is expected that the Business Men's Republican League will wield a large influence in the coming campaign, and several merchants who have joined the organization have been affiliated with the Democratic party.

A further meeting will be held toward the latter part of the week, when the Committee on Organization will report and permanent officers will be elected.

It is suggested that about twenty-five of the most prominent business men in the community will act as vice-presidents of the organization.

SENIORS PLANT IVY.

Class Day Exercises at U.S.C. Both Picturesque and Amusing—Brennan Lamps Presented.

The senior class day ceremonies and ivy festivities at the University of Southern California yesterday afternoon were very picturesque.

At the planting of the ivy, Miss Rose Hoegerman, president of the senior class, turned the first shovelful of earth, and then the other members of the class followed her example.

The planting over, the procession marched to the main stairway entrance where Miss Hoegerman presented a cap and gown to Leslie Gay, president of the junior class.

Next the "mystery" bag, a token of the class, was presented to the president of the junior class.

He was noted among all who knew him for his intricate knowledge of the Holy Bible, which added strength to his addresses as well as to his character, and the gentleness of his great nature fostered special delight in music.

SHOES FOR MEN

A Remarkable Assortment
At a Single PriceSee Display in the North Window of Our Spring
Street Store

We are distinguished in the shoe world for several reasons: large output is one—close margin prices another—extremely liberal policy a third. We conduct a general shoe business, yet concentrate our best energy in a few special directions. In no particular are we less efficient than our competitors; in several notable instances our offerings are not excelled by any shoe concern in the country.

Undoubtedly our strongest single claim on popular favor is backed by a wonderful showing of shoes for men at four dollars. It is not with us a "once in a while" proposition; we present strong $4 values every day in the year.

Right now we are in splendid condition for the man who wears $4 shoes; we are showing more styles than ever before in our business history—and can produce all sizes in any of the styles. We show all materials, every conceivable pattern, plenty of good lasts. All of the popular shades of Tan leathers, Gun Metal Calf, Patent Colt, 2-eyelet Yale Ties, low shoes with buckle and straps, or with one and two large buckles. Pumps and Tuxedo Ties for dress wear. High shoes in Tan or Black, double or single soles, various patterns. In fact, every possible shoe combination is in the assortment.

This week we propose to decidedly demonstrate where we stand on the FOUR DOLLAR SHOE QUESTION. To our already liberal assortment we have added many lines of $5 and $6 Shoes; all will be sold for one week at $4 a Pair. We intend to make this the strongest offering of Shoes for Men ever shown in this city afternoon the attorneys for the directors agreed to stipulate evidence. They agreed with the prosecution that liquor was sold to the patrons of the club and that there was no license held by the club for the retail sale of liquor. The case then resolved itself into a duel between attorneys for prosecution and defense with argument as the sole means of battle.

Attorney Crutcher and Frank for the defense stated that it was ridiculous to make a respectable club take out a liquor license. They said that the liquor was kept simply for the accommodation of the club patrons and that the law regarding social clubs was aimed at blind pigs conducted under the mask of a social club with the sole purpose of retailing liquor.

They contended that for a social club of respectable standing to be accused of retailing liquor was no worse than compelling a citizen to take out a retail liquor license whenever he wanted to serve wine to the members of his family.

Attorney Woolwine responded that law was law, and that the city ordinance made it necessary for a retail liquor license to be secured whenever liquor of any sort was sold, dispensed or given away.

The court continued the argument until this morning when it will be resumed with Woolwine appearing for the prosecution, assisted by Attorney Ford.

The directors of several other clubs were present to get pointers, and all had high hopes of a verdict in their favor.

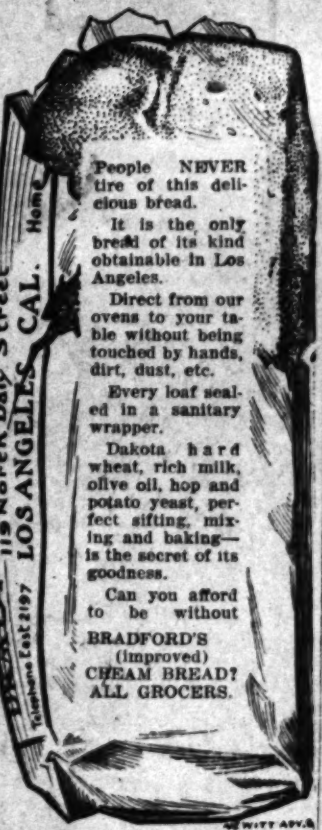

The directors on trial are Joseph Scott, William M. Garland, Philip Forre, Fred W. Flint, Jr., and Percy E. Wilson.

LOCAL SOCIETY.

Rev. Alfred Smith and Miss Gertrude Milne played the wedding march. The only attendants were the ring bearer and flower girl. Malcolm and Lois Chambers. The bride, who is a very attractive young woman, wore a gown of pale lavender broadcloth, with trimmings of silver brocade satin, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. The young people stood by the fireplace for the ceremony, tall vases of Easter lilies and white and lavender chrysanthemums forming an attractive background. A wedding breakfast was served in the dining-room, where there were decorations in lavender and white. Bon hoes were served in lavender moulds and favors were white roses filled with rice. Cards decorated with bride's and groom's monograms were suspended, with silver hearts, from tripods of candy. Mr. and Mrs. Sturges will make their home at the Zedda apartments, where they will receive their friends upon their return from a brief wedding trip.

Mrs. Alexander Hamilton, standing at the Elbell Clubhouse was one of the largest of the season.

For Mrs. Ball.

A fine compliment to Mrs. Adele M. Ball, soon to be wedded to B. L. Vickery, was the "shower" and tea given by Mrs. Lathrop yesterday afternoon at Bishop Conaty's residence, Burlington avenue. Twenty ladies were present.

College Luncheon.

Misses Beulah Wright, Elsie Vanderpool, Marion Bel Lamont and Gertrude Comstock will be hostesses at a luncheon in honor of alumni of the College of Orange of U.S.C. at St. James Hotel today. Among the guests will be Miss Edna Adkins, Daley Sinclair-Ralston, Doris Shaw, Helen, Eleanor Dietering, Helen Pittner, Eva Smith, Alberts Shattuck, Marguerite Pratt, Edith, Romie, Maude Dawson, Lillian Pressman and Alta Thornton.

Dickie-Glass Wedding.

Miss Eva Lena Dickie and Thomas Perle Glass were married last evening at the home of the bride's mother, No. 24 West Avenue 32. Miss Maude Pryor of Long Beach was maid of honor, and William Dickie, the bride's brother, best man. Rev. A. C. Jenkins, D.D., performed the ceremony. Little Madge Dickie of Woodland was ring-bearer. The guests were from Corona, Santa Ana, Garden Grove, Westminster, Pomona, Pasadena, Long Beach and Wyoming.

"PREPS" GRADUATE.

Diplomas Given to Many Who Finish in That Department of the U.S.C.

Thirty-one graduates of the preparatory department of the University of Southern California received their diplomas at the academy commencement exercises last night in the University Methodist Church. The broad chancel and platform were strikingly decorated with pepper, bergias and ivy strings, while large floral figures, "48," formed of bright cardinal geraniums, were hung at the choir rail.

The University orchestra opened the programme, rendering in martial inspiration De Koven's "Maid Marion." The first oration was delivered by Miss Ella M. Malan on "Making a Living and Making a Life." Roy Wilson Dwyer spoke on "The Americanizing of Our Immigrants," followed by a musical symposium entitled "Music as a Cultural Study," by Miss Pauline Fredenburg. Another selection by the orchestra was given, after which Howard Murray Lennox, honor scholar and champion athlete delivered an excellent oration, "The Age of Opportunity."

Miss Edith M. Myers gave an original essay, bringing forth new lessons on "The Personality of Joanne d'Arc," and the concluding address by Edward G. Thompson was on "America's Responsibility for Universal Peace."

President George F. Bivard presented of our Immigrants to the following graduates: Charles Lewis Allen, Jr., Clara Lillian Bruckman, Laura Ellen Burnmaster, Helen Amanda Collier, Flora May Cronmiller, Ruth Cynn, Edward Darwin Dwyer, Roy Wilson Dwyer, Florence May Fellows, Catherine Louise Ferguson, Hattie Elise Foster, Mary Pauline Fredenburg, Harold Wheelock Goodenow, Helen Roscoe Humphrey, Norman Jack, Ines Allice Johnson, Arthur Douglas Lawrence, Howard Murray Lennox, Ella Mabel Malan, Aaron Calvin McCray, Olive Emily Marshall, Edith Marie Marshall, Myers, Adah May Poole, Claude Raymond Prince, Lillian Frances Rivera, Leo J. Smith, Kester Thomas Soule, Edward Griffin Thompson, Emily Agnes Thorne, Mary Marguerite Thorne, Ethel Grace Ziegler.

The final portion of the programme was in music, and the most inspiring, as the fair graduates received beautiful floral tributes. Many more substantial tokens were also given by admiring friends.

Wiggins Real Impresario.

Harbor Day Benefit Concert at the Auditorium is Both Artistic and Popular Success.

Impresario Frank Wiggins is a success as a manager of mere amusements, and now that he has carried the talent long resident in exhibition into the amon-pure show business, the local lights who have long regarded their field as exclusive had best look to their reputations.

Yesterday afternoon's concert at the Auditorium was largely attended, the programme was carried out in every detail, the enthusiasm was delightful, and though financial returns were not quite as large as had been hoped, the showing was very gratifying for the lateness of the season and the comparatively short time of preparation.

All of the artists participating entered thoroughly into the spirit of the affair. Miss Yaw contributed several splendid numbers, and responded with merry alacrity to the instantaneous demand for an encore that followed each of her efforts.

Harry Lott, who has been heard but little since his return from Europe, gave two unusual songs in fine style. Olga Stesh again demonstrated her astonishing mastery of the keyboard, and received the most unrestrained commendation from her audience. Bruce Gordon Kinard exploited to the full the multivarious resources of the immense Auditorium organ. Edgemoor Nowland, violinist, gave most unusual interpretation to a group of selections. The Cecilia Quartette, comprising Mrs. E. F. Feichbaum, Miss Ada G. Richards, Miss Grace D. Elliot and Miss Carrie Francis Tallman, was heard to most harmonious advantage in several ballads.

Mrs. Blanche Rogers-Lott accompanied her husband, Mrs. T. Newman was again at the piano for Miss Yaw, and Fordyce Hunter played for Mr. Nowland.

Altogether, the recital was a most unusually successful musical affair.

EXCHANGE OUTING.

Produce Dealers Plan Pleasant Outing on Catalina Next Friday, With Banquet.

Members of the Produce Exchange of Los Angeles will have their annual outing this year at Catalina Island. They will leave here on Friday of next week, and return on the following Sunday evening. The banquet will be on Saturday evening at the Hotel Metropole, Avalon, and for the first time in the history of the exchange, no wine or other liquors will be served with the meal. The men who have charge of the affair this year are J. B. Jacobs, E. B. Rivers and B. F. Holmes.

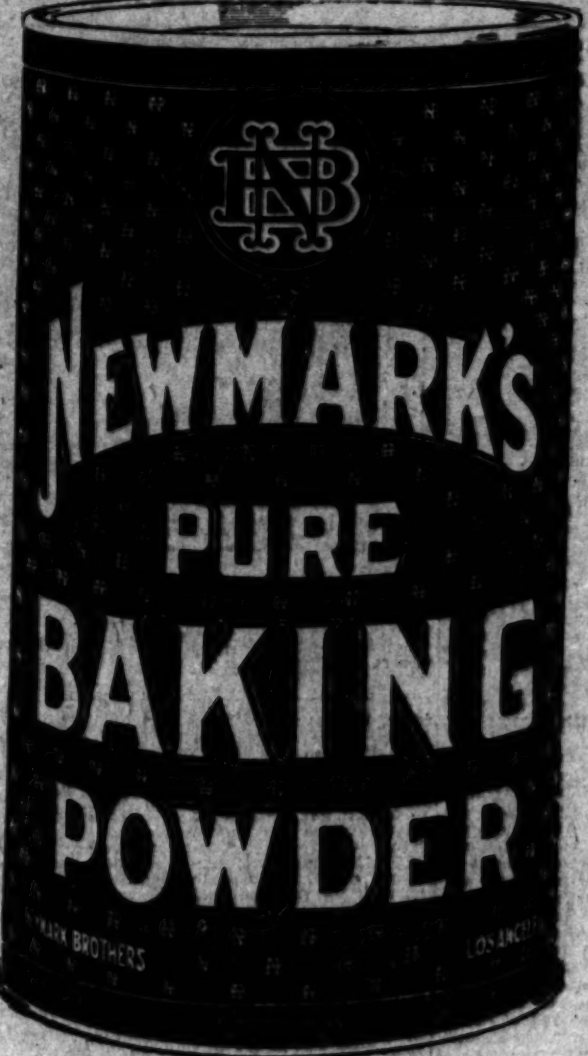

President L. J. Matthews yesterday appointed the egg and butter committees for the ensuing year. On the former will be A. W. Thompson, J. C. Richardson, W. M. Monday, J. Huber, M. Campau, S. S. Wallace and T. J. Lalor. The members of the Butter Committee will be J. B. Jacobs, A. Fleischman, E. Burr, D. M. Dorman and J. D. Simpson.

Run Down

If your doctor says take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, then take it. If he has anything better, then take that.

If you are all run down, easily tired, thin, pale, nervous, go to your doctor. Stop guessing, stop experimenting, go direct to your doctor. Ask his opinion of Ayer's non-alcoholic Sarsaparilla. No alcohol, no stimulation. A blood purifier, a nerve tonic, a strong alternative, an aid to digestion. P. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

FERD. T. HOPKINS, Prop., 37 Grand Street, New York.

It is just as practical to make improvements on Baking Powder as it is on the sewing machine or anything else that is manufactured or compounded.

That's the very reason behind Newmark's Pure Baking Powder. We carefully looked into general Baking Powder conditions as they have been existing for the past 50 years. We found ROOM FOR IMPROVEMENT.

Is it any wonder that "Newmark's Pure" is so rapidly displacing the inferior powders in thousands of the best homes? Ask your grocer.

PRINTING POINTERS

The cost of producing an article is the only fair basis of making a price.

Too often, printing is furnished on the basis of "what the buyer will pay."

"Cost of production" is the sole factor that regulates prices at this great plant.

The cost of production is low because materials are bought in large quantities for spot cash, and there are highly efficient men and machines to handle each and every class of printing.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

WHEN TOURISTS TRAVEL. HOPE TO OPEN IN THE WINTER.

BY THEN HOTEL WENTWORTH'S DEBT MAY BE LIFTED.

Settlement of Affairs of Big Pasadena Establishment is Pending. High School Students to Present Musical Extravaganza—Third Water Company Acquiesces.

Office of The Times, No. 21 S. Raymond Ave.
PASADENA, June 18.—That Hotel Wentworth will open in the early winter under the supervision of the present stockholders is the opinion of Walter S. Wright, one of the attorneys acting in the case. While in this matter, by the middle of July all the mechanics' liens will be in, and the stockholders will then know the indebtedness. It is expected it will not be difficult to raise the necessary funds to lift the debt.

Gen. Wentworth is now in the East, but will return early in the fall.
STUDENTS IN CLASS PLAY.
The island of Pinaka, a musical extravaganza in three acts, will be given at the Operahouse tonight by the senior class of the High School. Between sixty and seventy students will appear in the cast. It will follow musical comedy lines, many popular songs and catchy pieces being frankly "lifted."

An much interest centers in the play, among the patrons of the High School, as in the commencement exercises, admission will be only by complimentary ticket.
AFTER GRAND LODGE.
Four members of the Pasadena lodge of Elks, No. 697, will go to Dallas, Tex., on the special train from Los Angeles, determined to do all in their power to aid the delegation from that city to secure the 1909 meeting of the Grand Lodge of Elks. Past Exalted Ruler, Richard Husted will go as the representative of the local lodge and Dr. Charles H. Ward, another past exalted ruler, will aid in bringing the lodge to the Coast. C. T. James and W. E. Lind are two other workers in the local lodge who expect to attend.

Although Detroit, Mich., is making a big bid for the next meeting, Mr. Husted said last night he expected to see Los Angeles secure it. This will mean that much larger delegations may visit Los Angeles in 1909 than when the Shriners were here last year.

The Dallas convention will convene on July 13.

LIBRARIANS TO MEET.
Miss Nellie M. Rust, president of the sixth district California Library Association, will attend the meeting of that organization in Santa Monica tomorrow. The morning programme will begin at 10:30 o'clock and will include a business session and a trip through Santa Monica in automobiles, as guests of the Board of Trade.
The afternoon session will start at 2:30 o'clock. Henry Dwight Burgess will speak on "The Southern California Historical Society and its Library." Pictures and Libraries, a paper by Miss Anna Beckley of Los Angeles, and Kirk H. Field will report on the work of the committee on cooperation among libraries. Miss Margaret Kyle of Riverside will tell of "Periodical Exchange." Mrs. F. Scherer of Pasadena will report on "Book Selection and Buying." "Binding and Workroom Problems," will be the subject of a paper by Miss C. A. Waters of San Bernardino. "Library Business, Postal Cards with Exhibit," will be dealt with by Miss S. M. Jacobus of Pasadena.

THIRD COMPANY ACQUIRES.
Following a meeting of the Council Water Committee and the directors of the North Pasadena Land and Water Company, Mayor Theodore Earle expressed himself as satisfied that a contract drawn up on similar lines to those with the other two companies will be agreeable to the stockholders of the North Side company. As soon as the contract is completed, it will be sent East for approval, but it will not delay the issue of the bonds. If the ordinance is approved, it is certain the bond issue may be called, as the contract with the North Pasadena company will necessarily include the same detail as the ordinance.
That the matter will be hampered by the accusation of being in the office to push the water deal through for his own gain, he yesterday sold all his stock amounting to $15,000 shares in the Pasadena Lake Viewland Land and Water Company, for $100 per share. This is a price above what the city will give for the stock, a dividend of $1 making the investment a valuable one to the purchaser, Dr. Rudolph Schmitt.

DEATH'S ROLL CALL.
Garwood H. Moulton, aged 71 years, and a native of Canada, died yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock a.m. at his home, No. 41 Kirkwood avenue. He had resided in Pasadena for twelve years, and leaves two sons, Charles and Fred C. Moulton. The funeral service will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, Rev. S. J. Dunham, pastor of the Universalist church, will officiate.
Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Bertha A. Giltner, who died yesterday at the home of her son, Mr. Giltner, 2100 Chester avenue, will be held on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, from the residence. Burial will be in Mountain View cemetery.
This afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, funeral services will be held over the remains of Miss Zeph V. Williams, who died at the family residence, No. 2000 Topeka street, on June 16. She was 59 years of age, and had a large circle of friends.
Prof. M. O. Barnes of the California Military Academy, died yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, from acute indigestion, which came on during a camping trip in the Arroyo Seco. He was 38 years of age and was supposed to be in good health when he started on the journey. As formerly stated in the Times, he drank considerable mountain water while on the trip. It is supposed to have caused his illness. A post mortem examination will be made today to ascertain the real cause of death. Funeral services will be held in Los Angeles, at his home, No. 3925 Wall street.

PASADENA NEWS NOTES.
Members of Annadale Golf Club are expecting to celebrate the completion of the new street car line to the club from the Church of the Angels. Nearly 1500 invitations will be sent out to clubmen and women of Southern California country clubs to present at a big reception on the 1st.
Mrs. W. J. Whipple, manager of The rooming-house, at No. 21 North Oaks avenue, was arrested yesterday morning, charged with selling Nothing so strengthening and sustaining in all kinds of weather, outdoors or indoors, as the whole wheat when it is properly prepared for the stomach.

"FORCE"

is the food that gives the maximum of strength with the least tax upon the digestive organs. "FORCE" is the "predigested energy" of wheat and barley. Try it for breakfast.

"FORCE" is made of the best white wheat, steam-cooked, rolled into thin flakes, combined with the purest barley-malt and baked. Always "crisp" before serving it by pouring into a pan and warming it in oven. Then serve in large dish with cream, piling the flakes in one side of the dish and pouring the cream in the other side, dipping the flakes as eaten.

Your grocer sells it. No other Flaked Food is "just as good."

Imperiales Cigarettes are more than merely a smoke to thousands upon thousands of Westerners. They're actually old friends. That's because smokers have learned that never fail them in the hour of needing a good smoke. You can buy Imperiales anywhere—everywhere—and they're always the same good Imperiales—rolled of pure, delicious tobacco, in thin, pure mals paper—crimped, not pasted—and with individual mouthpieces to cool the smoke. Smoke them all day long if you want to—no after effects.

The men of the West smoked over 125,000,000 Imperiales Cigarettes in 1907.

The Place to Test Dental Work Is In the Mouth

The final test of Dental Work is whether it stands the strains of mastication or not. It does not, it is not worth having. If it is not good, it will soon fall in use. If it stands up in use, it is final and conclusive proof. Now, our Dentistry withstands better than the average dental work.
